Always to Be Remembered

For the first time in 31 years the familiar face and friendly smile of I. R. Metzler will not greet the students and faculty on opening day of school.

Arriving at Beaverton in 1922 fresh from three years of naval service Mr. Metzler took over positions of teacher and coach. A graduate of O.S.C. class of 1920, he held titles in high jumping and pole vaulting.

In 1923 'Mike' organized the Fire Squad and has been the adviser since that time.

1924 brought his election as principal of B.H.S. Since then he has guided the mushrooming growth of the high school from 130 students to 1005 and from 15 rooms to 45 rooms.

So now in 1953, as he prepares for retirement, the Beaver staff dedicates this book to the man whose name is synonymous with Beaverton High, 'Mike' Metzler.

'53 Proves Successful

As school opened this year, many problems came to Principal I. R. Metzle, but with the help of the faculty and the Board of Education, they were solved.

Twelve new teachers were shown around the different classes and departments.

Mr. Kahle, after serving the Principal & the Board.

Administration

I. R. Metzle discusses the possibilities of a color scheme plan for dance decorations with a B.H. student.

Karl Kable, vice-principal, glances up while searching for information in the filing cabinet.

The office is always filled with students and teachers busily occupied before first period takes up.

Practise teacher Miss Betty Mosholaky, a former S H S student, and Mrs. W. Ed. Held, substitute, chat in the office before the 8:45 bell.

From the smiling countenances of Carl Husen, Arus Bird, Mrs. Vera Cress, Miss Bernice Conoly, and Glen Hollar, crafts teachers, it is apparent that good grades are in store for many B-Hi students.

I. R. Metzler, principal Arthur Pearson, Mrs. Letha Turner, clerk, Roy N. Bowman, Harris Hansen, Karl Kahle, vice, and William Saunders are members of the Board. William Cameron is pending plans for the '53-'54 school year.

Taking a short break from their tight schedules are Mrs. Evelyn McGill and Mrs. Letha Turner, secretary and clerk, respectively.

Board Makes Decisions

Unseen and unheard by most students, the school board makes important behind-the-scene decisions at each monthly meeting.

Headed by William D. Cameron for the past seven years, the board has, among other things, established and financed the long-term building plan now in effect.

I. R. Metzler and Karl Kahle serve as administration delegates, and Mrs. Letha Turner is clerk.

Other members are Roy N. Bowman, Harris Hansen, Arthur Pearson, William Saunders.

Readers' Whims Satisfied Here

Gathering pennies

Heading the list of library duties were books in and out, mending books, and several other duties.

The library staff was Bride Bill Miner, Arlene Rogers, Kathy O'Connor, Jim Springer, Diane Schendel, Janet Wootten, Lee Zumwalt, Jerry A. Bob Sheldon, Mike McCoy, and Frances Putnam.

Never too busy to smile is head-librarian Miss Beverly Orton.

A familiar sight — Lee Zumwalt stamping due dates, Diane Schendel filing, and Bob Sheldon thumbing through cards.

Student librarians brushing up on studying are Dick Rickson, Jan Wootten, Ted McBride, Kathy O'Connor, Jim Springer, Bill Miller, Marilyn Thomson, and Arlene Rogers. Standing are Frances Putnam and Mike McCoy.

Poising for their daily journeys in giant ten-ton school buses are drivers Joseph Wendling, James Schuman, Leonard Kutz, Walter Fain, Louie Benovich, William West, R. J. Barr, Jay Couch, Alva Norris, Fronsie Filcraft, and David Hax.

Custodians, Drivers Busy

Nursing their delicate patient, the school health as well as in shining the school riding care of the custodians and eleven bus drivers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Day, home and Gene Beighley, Frank Zimbrick, Robert performed many of the work, including win and laundry.

Assembly Line-Up Sparkles

President Travis Cavens had as the theme for his assemblies — variety.

Starting the year with an audience of 100, he followed it with equally interesting programs. Mark Hatfield from Willamette University described the Republican National Convention. Lew and Clark drew laughs with their pre-set, laugh-filled.

Second semester elections brought brothers to the limelight. Dick and Bob Grant both took student body offices. Dick was president and Bob was manager.

Among the outstanding assemblies the second semester had was the one on the 1960s. It was an absorbing talk by a student who had been how to hold up a bank or how to hold up an assembly was a hit of the year. It was a success for the school. It was a success for the school.

An innovation this year was the appointment of a vice president of assembly management. The first vice president was Kent Davidson.

Student Body Officers

Election campaigns were sparked by posters such as Marlene Fery and Buzz Hagen are hanging in the front hall.

First semester student body officers Jack Brown, reporter; Dale Burger, vice president; Dick Grant, manager; Joanne Chodwick, secretary; Ted Kuten, treasurer, gather to check the proceeds of the score board drive.

Activity Is Their Motto

Once again the Y-Teens have had a successful year of activity.

Presenting the annual Thanksgiving turkey raffle, and hot cream soup, helping Junior Red Cross collect old clothing for Western Europe and the year's projects.

The club, largest organization in school, was hostess to Y-Teenagers from district schools at the national conference in February. Feature attractions were the buzz session, movie, swap shops, and speakers.

To complete the year, Beaverton Y-Teenagers were in charge of decorations at the interclub spring formal, held in Portland.

President Martha Walters, assisted by a capable cabinet, planned varied meetings, including a style show with Beaverton girls as models.

Advisers of the organization were Mrs. Dorothy Wippel, Mrs. Elaine Mosholsky, and Miss Beverly Orton.

Always willing to lend a helping hand to the organization are active seniors, Carol Burns, Gayl Benson, and Gwen Ellis.

Drivers Prove Their Motto

To promote safe driving throughout the school and community was the aim of the Drivers' Club whose membership was 158 this year. Joseph Nelson, a new teacher, advised the club.

Duties and qualifications of a "cop" were discussed by a state policeman at one of the monthly meetings, while a movie depicting idiosyncracies of various drivers highlighted another get-together.

Presiding over the club first semester were Bob Rasmussen, president, Ted McBride, vice president and Jerry Erickson, secretary-treasurer. Ralph Holland held the position of secretary for the second semester and was ably assisted by Bob [unclear] and Chuck McClure, vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

As President Diane Schendel rapped the group, officially close the first Girls' Athletic Association. The group then opened the 1952 membership drive. The group then opened the 1952 membership drive.

Under the leadership

Under the leadership of the group, the girls have been very active in the community. They have been very active in the community.

Every sport from marching to swimming helped the girls to earn the important 50 points. The girls have been very active in the community.

When twenty girls work together to complete a task, success is a certainty. With this philosophy the G.A.A. squad has been very active in the community.

Miss Beverly Gates and Miss Ellen Forslund advised the girls on their activities.

The G.A.A. cabinet members met on the steps to discuss their latest project. They are Bernadine Krueger, secretary; Elaine Sullivan, treasurer; Evelyn Kotalak, vice-president; Sally Graves, sports manager; Diane Schendel, president.

"Webb's Army Marches On"

A reputation for being one of the best in the state has earned many of our students a place in the ranks of the "Webb's Army."

The eager Webbmen start on their march by grabbing at the Pacific tournament and the Linfield tournament.

At the Linfield tournament the Webbmen won four cups and several other prizes.

Other place winners are Earl McCamman, and Fred...

Plays and Operetta

Dramatic Productions Featured

For the first time in many "moons," students got a taste of show business when Miss Patricia Holtz, Robert Matson, and Mrs. Eleanor Duncan rounded up costs and produced three dramatic extravaganzas.

"The Inner Willie," a hilarious comedy starring Tracy Matson as the meek Willie, with Bob Zurcher his inner self, was presented in November.

Then came a colorful operetta, "Pirates of Penzance," with costumes, songs, and all. It was staged by Mrs. Duncan and the vocal music groups and starred Kent Davidson as a bold, handsome pirate.

Rounding out the drama calendar was a thrilling mystery comedy, "The Skeleton Walks," which featured Dick Wilkins as a sinister character named Dr. Fersig.

The dashing Frederic (Kent Davidson) bids the world farewell as Pirate King Richard T. (Joe Keim) and the Maid (Gayl Benson) prepare to blow his brains out in "Pirates of Penzance."

J. V.'s Capture League Title

Beaverton's J.V.'s had an outstanding year as they established a 13 win-one loss record and captured the TYV league championship

Leading the squad was Dirk Davidson with 223 points and Ben Indal and Bob Grant, close behind with 186 and 182 points respectively John Dean scored 114 and Roger McKnight 113 to round off the fearsome livesome

Beaverton Frosh coached by Gene Freese had one of the biggest turn outs in many years with 67 boys reporting The team was cut to 16 fellows who supported a ten win-four loss record Leading the scoring were Roger Nelson 102, Furr Duncan 92, Larry Stearns 72

Hurlers Lead Hard-Luck Crew

Headed by an imposing array of eight varsity hurlers, Gene Duncan's '52 diamond crew has compiled a 3-11 record, with six of the victories coming in single run games.

"Dunc's" pitching brigade, Ernie Zwahlen and Bill Henderson, lit the victory fuse as Ernie tossed a lull one-hit shutout and Bill turned in a pair of hitless games.

Meanwhile Ed Ramsdell and Jerry Erickson, slated the Rams' heavy artillery in the batting column with potent 300 and 300 marks respectively.

Defensively, Jerry held down the first sack, Dick [unclear] peppery Jack Hunt roamed the second, Dick [unclear] selected third, as catcher Ramsdell deftly guided the battery mate.

Jim Sinnerud, Kent Davidson, topped the outfield contingent with a combined 300 average.

Bill Logan's J. V. baseball team has compiled a record of a 500 average with six wins and three losses.

Chuck Shea led the pitching staff of Bob Haine and Bob Grant with an impressive no-hit game, a pitcher's dream, over Forest Grove.

Players supplying "big sticks" were Jim Barnett with a 400-plus average, followed closely by Chuck [unclear].

Girl V-Ballers Win One Game

Losing all but one game, the girls' A squad volleyball team never-the-less gained valuable experience and friends

Coached by Miss Ellen Forslund and captained by Bernadine Bergstrom and Elsie Gentry, the Beaverettes met Forest Grove Hillsboro, and Sherwood over the net. Following each contest, they and the opposing school team had a social hour, with "chit-chat" and refreshments

Volleyball intramural team captains were Donna Scott, Marylee Cavens, Colleen Helmcke, Janet Wootten, Evelyn Kolstad, Shirley Molash, and Bernadine Bergstrom

Approximately 84 girls participated in intramural sports, played during noon hours

Basketball Sees Slow Season

Lack of "elbow room" allowed the girls' basketball team to play only one inter-school game. This was also played against the inter-city host to Forest Grove.

After-school practices were held three times a week. Coach Beverly Anderson, Captain Frances Lee and Manager Margaret Butler.

Basketball intramurals took place during noon hours in the gymnasium.
